

Pre-Pathologist Assistant (PathA) Preparation

Pathologists' assistants (PathAs) provide anatomic pathology services under the direction and supervision of a pathologist. These allied health professionals utilize a variety of manual and automated techniques to process, dissect, stain, etc. tissue samples from patients. Individuals assess the condition of patients for sample procurement, examination, diagnosis, and treatment. Job duties may include coordination of autopsy protocols perform postmortem examinations. They must pass a national certifying examination (American Society for Clinical Pathology, or ASCP) which is open only to graduates of accredited PathA programs. Visit American Association of Pathologists' Assistants www.pathassist.org

The preferred PathA degree is at the Masters-level degree based on a curriculum involving both classroom instruction and clinical rotations, usually requiring 1 to 2 years for degree completion. Therefore, most students entering a PathA program have already completed a baccalaureate degree, usually in the sciences. The average entrant has competitive scores on the GRE, and has a minimum grade point average of 3.00/4.00. Attributes such as demonstrated caring attitude toward others, communication skills, emotional stability under stress and problem-solving ability are important selection factors.

There are currently 8 NAACLS accredited PathA programs in America (listed below). It is very important when you begin your program to identify which programs you plan to apply and plot out their requirements accordingly.
